P.O.C Trophy Cleveland Brewing Company

At the End of each CCPL Season:

The Winning team gets their name added to the P.O.C. Team Trophy.

The P. O. C. Team Trophy was named after a Cleveland Brewing Company, which during that time there were many. The Pilsener Brewing Company, thus “Pilsener of Cleveland” is where (P.O.C.) originates from. The P.O.C. Team trophy resides at the North Olmsted Sportsman Club and has a inscription on the plate that reads "P.O.C. Pilsener Championship Team Trophy". It is unknown if P.O.C. paid for it or not but generally whoever pays for the trophy usually gets naming rights.
